

WOMEN TO DISCUSS CONSTITUTION CHANGES

Two proposed changes in the Constitution will be considered at the Open Meeting of the Women's Union to be held on Monday, February 28. The meeting will take place in the R.V.C. Common Room and will begin at 4:15 pm.

The first proposed change is the much discussed amendment that the Women's Union discontinue payment of $1.00 per year per woman student to the McGill Union. The other proposed change is that an Executive Committee be set up with representation by faculties.

Candidates for president of the Women's Union and MSWAA will present their platforms. Presidency of the Women's Union is being contested by Joan Caplan, BA 3, and Lyn Fowler, B.Sc. 3.

Dorothy Greetham, B.Sc. 3 and Patty Mowat, BA 3 have been nominated for the position of President of MSWAA.

ASUS And EUS Nominations Are Revealed

Nominations having closed yesterday, three acclamations have been announced in the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society; Ilene Ridell becomes the new Recording Secretary, Deanna Krasovitsky, Corresponding Secretary, and Mike Butler Treasurer.

The following students are contesting four positions:

Running for Secretary of the Women's Union are Sue Robertson, Kathy Young and Marg Deansley.

Clubs and Societies under the jurisdiction of the Women's Union will present reports. They include the Women's Medical Society, the Physical and Occupational Therapy Society, the Graduate Nurses Society and the Redwing Society.

Bobby Hutchison, President of the Women's Union, is urging all women to attend. All women students are members of the Women's Union and as such have a vote. Refreshments will be served during the meeting.

"THE CENCI" English Department's Latest Production

A crime so infamous that it is never even mentioned, is the basis of Shelley's The Cenci, which will be presented in Moyse Hall on March 10, 11, and 12 by the Department of English. Prof. Stephen Porter will again produce, direct, and design the sets for the show.

The play was considered too shocking for the stage, and was banned by the Lord Chamberlain's office in London. The McGill producers are the first to present this controversial play in Montreal.

Very briefly the facts on which Shelley bases his drama are as follows: A rich Italian nobleman, Count Cenci, angered by the defiance of his daughter Beatrice ravished her. So horrified by this incestuous assault that she could not even speak of it, Beatrice resolved to murder him. Together with her step-mother and her brother she managed to have him killed.

The three conspirators were arrested and tried by the papal court. Even under torture Beatrice refused to admit either the parricide, or the outrage which had motivated it. In 1599 the family was put to death and their vast estates were confiscated by the church.

To Shelley, the death of Beatrice seemed a monstrous injustice, so he transformed the story slightly and made it a heroic struggle against tyranny.

Preserving the incredible viciousness of Cenci's household, the dramatist makes Beatrice stand out as pure and courageous in defense of her honour. As a matter of fact she was not quite as chaste as Shelley thought she was, but his idealisation deepens the meaning of the play.

One of the difficulties which had to be overcome before this play could be presented in Montreal was the anti-Catholic bias. Where this bias was too strongly felt the passages were cut out.

The Department of English believes that it is now time to rescue this masterpiece from the silence to which prudery has condemned it.

DEVOTION MOTIVATES DANCE TROUPE

The visit of the Montreal Modern Dance Company to Moyse Hall last night marked the culmination of long years of effort by a group of devoted professional dancers.

Miss Yone Kvietys

The company's business Manager, Mr. Langlois repeatedly emphasized this point and went on to say that this was due primarily to the efforts of the Director Miss Yone Kvietys. "It is only her ceaseless efforts, amounting to as much as twenty hours a day, that makes the show possible." Mr. Langlois also paid tribute to the rest of the cast. "Even though their pay is very low, and opportunities are many, especially outside of Canada, they have chosen the difficult road of the pioneer."

Pioneers

Asked to elaborate on the pioneering aspect of the group, Mr. Langlois stated that his was the first group in Eastern Canada to depart from the traditional ballet style. "I am convinced", he said "that a company such as our can and will survive on its own merits. Public enthusiasm will eventually justify the ambitious plans which all of us cherish."

Financing

Financially, the pioneering road has not been an easy one. Mr. Langlois — in private life the chief of production planning in the Engineering Division of Canadian Vickers — reluctantly admitted that it was only through his financial support that the company had been able to survive. But the sheer joy which he derived from watching the dancers perform outweighed the financial burden which he assumed.

"For the entire company this is indeed an important night" the Business Manager concluded before last night's performance. "Six months of work have gone into the preparation of this recital — and we hope it is the beginning of bigger things to come."

WEIR, SHEPPARD, FRASER PAPINEAU CUP FINALISTS

By George Schafer

Bryce Weir, Claude Armand Sheppard, and John M. Fraser, in order of merit, were selected finalists from among the 13 contestants at the Papineau Cup Preliminaries, yesterday.

"Resolved that man was borne free and is everywhere in chains" was the topic for the contest, which provided keen competition for experienced orators.

Bryce Weir

Bryce Weir upheld the negative side of the resolution by trying to show that man is not born free and that he lives in chains. He quoted Schiller, who claimed that man is in fact free though born in chains. Weir praised the sentiment, but denied its validity, claiming that the truth lies between the two extremes. Going on to examine heredity, he proceeded to show that physical, and, within limits, mental capabilities are rigidly predetermined, and that man lives in the chains of his environment. In his summary, he pointed out the fact that though our course is plotted by forces outside our control, this does not mean that we cannot find satisfaction in travelling that course.

Claude Armand Sheppard

In his examination of the topic, Claude Armand Sheppard showed that man is not born free but is heir to a three fold heredity, a physical one — biological, a mental one — which is the result of things such as parental influence, and a social one — such includes race and colour. He elaborated further on this topic, and summed up by mentioning that men, such as Ezra Pound and Adolf Hitler are indication that man is not free.

John M. Fraser

Giving a historical analysis of the topic, John Fraser emphasized that although the resolution may very well be an arresting statement, if one reads on in the Contract Sociale, one finds that Rousseau did not believe in the revolutionary ideas which were fostered by the events that followed; he believed in a rule of the general will. Since none of us is able to choose the time, place, and circumstances of our own birth, John Fraser argued, therefore man is not born free and is in chains everywhere.

In delivering the verdict, the judges, Professors Dudek and Stewart, and Rev. Knowles noted that though the speeches were illuminating, the speakers failed to define the word free in the resolution.

Principal James will be the judge at the finals, which will be held Thursday at 1 pm, in the Walter M. Stewart Room of the Union. The Talbot-Papineau Trophy, emblematic of supremacy in public speaking, will be presented to the victor by Jerome Smyth, last year's winner.

Church vs. Law Debating Topic

"Resolved That The Church Contributes More To Society Than The Law" will be the topic of the semi-final in a series of interfaculty debates.

The debate will be held today at 1 pm in Divinity Hall. Divinity will attempt to uphold the affirmative of the resolution, while Law will take the negative. Professor Valillee will be judge.

"This debate should resolve the age-old fight between morality as defined by the Church and immorality as practiced under the Law," a member of the Debating Union Executive has observed.

HILLEL TO SPONSOR CONCERT EVENING SUNDAY

A concert evening of Interpretive Dance and Music on Sunday, February 27, at 8.00 pm, in the auditorium of the Mount Royal Y.M.H.A. will take place under the sponsorship of Hillel.

Two students who have already made a reputation for themselves by their playing — Juillie Holtzman, pianist, and Joyce Blond, violinist, will be featured along with the MAR and MIM Interpretive Dance team of New York.

Marion Lipshitz and Mimi Kaplan, students at Brooklyn College and New York City College respectively, have been acclaimed widely for their dance arrangements of Biblical scenes. Their repertoire ranges from Israeli folk dances to a modern interpretation of the Prophecy on the Dry Bones in Ezekiel. Their program, aided by costumes, will consist of "Ezekiel", "B'arvat Hanegev", and a selection of some of the better known Israeli dances.

To help defray the cost of the evening, there will be a nominal admission fee of 35c per person. Because of the great demand for tickets and of the limited seating capacity of the auditorium, a limited number of tickets are available at Hillel House in the Arts Building and the Union.

PROF. REED TO SPEAK ON MIDDLE EAST DEFENSE

Professor Howard Reed of the Islamic Institute will be the guest speaker at Douglas Hall tonight at 8.15 pm, addressing the Historical Society on "Human and Historical Factors in Middle East Defence."

"Professor Reed has travelled widely in the area and has written several articles on Middle Eastern Affairs," a spokesman for the Society told the Daily, "and his talk should be full of interest and information."

The meeting and discussion that follows is open to non-members.

Editorial

IT IS POSSIBLE

Science Fiction seems to be coming up in the world!

We base this claim partly on the fact that the covers on the better S-F magazines are no longer lurid and yet still sell many thousands of copies every month, partly on the fact that large publishing houses are now willing to put out hard-bound editions of this type of material, and partly on the fact that we understand that even the conservative New York Times has been known to give a favorable review to Science Fiction novels once in a while.

Now we are beginning to wonder if some of the things we read about are really true after all, or if they are going to come about in the near future. What would we have thought a few years ago of travelling to the moon, or trips to Alpha Centaurus, or monsters invading the Earth, or indeed Earth being overrun by mutations of her own Homo Sapiens? Impossible, we would have said.

But these things do not seem to be so impossible these days. The use of atomic power brings the possibility of mutations much closer to reality. Even now scientists are studying the survivors of Hiroshima to determine the effects of radiation on human genes.

The possibility of space travel, too, is affected by the unleashing of atomic power. We notice that a British expert on space travel and former chairman of the British Inter-planetary Society even predicts, "Our descendants may very well be interested in imports from the moon or Mars . . . Such an achievement (men landing on the moon) is possible and the foundations for its accomplishment are already being laid."

Even the idea of invasions from the stars does not seem so fantastic these days. We have only to consider the Flying Saucer scares to realize that people are beginning to understand that space flight is more than a dream.

After reading some of the better Science Fiction we have discovered that we are beginning to have visions of the future. It is not hard to picture an Earth blasted and desolate. But we much prefer the picture of a world which has given up its wars to devote its resources to attaining the universe.

We too believe it is possible.

Let's Reconsider, Mr. Kushner

Dear Sir:

Re: "Trial Marriage", McGill Daily, Feb. 24.

I do not know exactly what faculty Mr. (I certainly hope it is not a Miss, or, God forbid, a Mrs.) A. W. Kushner, who wrote "Trial Marriage", attends. I only hope that it isn't Divinity.

Lack of Moral Point of View

To say that the article lacks any moral point of view is putting it mildly. Undoubtedly there are many "hardened" souls who will claim that morals, ethics, and "all such rot" have reached negligible proportions in our day and age. By this, however, they will merely display an immature rather than "hardened" attitude. Despite the opinions of a non-conforming minority, morals are still the basis of a progressive civilization, and the institution of marriage is only one of the yardsticks indicating the level of morality in our culture.

A Sordid State

Indeed, things would reach a sordid state when husbands or wives could shed their mates in the same manner as one changes a suit or dress. Mr. Kushner states in his article that, "Our present marriage code necessitates divorce because marriages are entered lightly, irresponsibly and blindly."

Does Mr. Kushner really expect that, as he says, the "mutual consent" and understanding, and the lack of alimony would decrease the light-heartedness and irresponsibility of marriage? This "Companionate Marriage" merely caters to human weakness. Surely, people would get married much more "blithely, irresponsibly and blindly" should they be aware of the fact that as soon as they became tired of their wife or husband, they could obtain a divorce with the minimum of difficulty and inconvenience.

"... In Marriage Robes"

Mr. Kushner states repeatedly that he is not advocating free love. Well, he certainly isn't; not in the sense as we know it today anyway. His "free love" is all dressed up white and immaculately in marriage robes.

Please, Mr. Kushner, let's reconsider.

Thanks For Help

To the Presidents of ASUS and CUS: Mr. Jaime Robertson, Mr. Bruce Hutchison,

The Winter Carnival Committee of 1954-55 and in particular myself, will ever be exceedingly grateful to the CUS and ASUS for their extreme generosity in giving so unselfishly at their disposal, so that the Ice Palace on Mount Royal could be built.

The students of the faculties of Arts and Science and Commerce have always thrown their support behind a venture which was worthwhile. It is a compliment to the Winter Carnival that you considered our project of the Ice Palace a suitable one. It is only through unselfish participation like that that McGill functions can succeed.

Letters to the Editor

Against the Women's Union Amendment

Dear Sir:

I should like to take issue with the proposed change in the Constitution of the Women's Union and the reasons for it as set out in these columns in letters from Miss Barbara Hutchison and Miss Pauline Mowat.

In the first place, I may say that I am in agreement with Miss Hutchison that structural re-organization of the Men's Union and Women's Union is long overdue, but the proposed constitutional amendment is certainly not the way to go about it.

An Anachronism

What is the present situation of the McGill Union and why is it an anachronism? The McGill Union is a building used equally by both men and women students, but it is administered by a board elected only by male students, harking back to the early days of this century when women's activities were separated from the rest of the campus and when the McGill Union was a men's club.

What has happened is that the women have come to use the Union building as much as the men, and therefore have paid, and rightly so, a contribution to the upkeep of the building. (All this verbal quibble about "exclusively women's facilities" is nonsense.)

Not An RUC Students' Society

The Women's Union has evolved too: rather than being the Students' Society of the Royal Victoria College (God forbid) it has become a women's service organization, providing booksales and speakers, and I am sure that not many women would like it to be otherwise. In fact, the women have been getting away with murder for the past few years: they have been paying one dollar for the use of the Union building (for which men pay $3.50) PLUS having their own Women's Union which provides additional services for the remaining $2.50. The only disadvantage that the women have incurred is that they have not been able to vote for the President of the Men's Union.

Women To Use Union Without Paying!

Now the Women's Union Executive proposes to withdraw financial support from the McGill Union to use the money for additional women's activities, but still women will use the Union building for which men pay $3.50 and the women nothing! The Womens Union Executive blithely says that this is as it should be, because women use the Union building in the capacity as members of clubs and societies under the SEC, and therefore, their use of the Union building should come from Students' Society fees. But Students' Society fees cover the activities of the clubs, not the upkeep of the building they use.

Raise Women's Fees

Where is the money to come from? Both men and women pay Student Society fees, and is the women's share for the use of the Union building to come from these fees while the men are paying an additional $3.50? Is it fair that the women students should have all the facilities that the men pay for plus their own Women's Union and still pay exactly the same Students' Society fees as the men? Of course not. To pay the women's share of the upkeep of the Union out of Students' Society fees, either certain activities will have to be cut, or Students' Society fees for women will have to be raised.

"Why Should Women Support It . . ."

Miss Mowat states: "If the men students wish to use the Men's Union fee to run the McGill Union, that is fine, but why should the women have to support it too?" Really, Miss Mowat, I gave you credit for more sense. The point is that there is no McGill Union except as a building, and this building is legally under the jurisdiction of the President of the Men's Union. What we want, I should think, is a McGill Union (an elected board of students) and the women flouncing off is not bringing us nearer that goal. The only fair result, if this motion is passed, is a raise in Students' Society fees for women.

Unilateral Action Confusing

So, the situation is not a simple one, and unilateral action on the part of the Women's Union is only confusing it. It is not fair to ask women students to vote on constitutional amendments until all alternatives are presented, and this can only be true in this case if the SEC reviews the entire set-up of both the Men's and Women's Unions, and until parallel constitutional amendments for both can be agreed upon.

Defeat The Motion

The motion therefore should be defeated, and a resolution passed calling upon the SEC to set up a committee which will present all the alternatives to the students.

MWSAA PRESIDENT

Dorothy Greetham

In presenting myself as a candidate for presidency of the MWSAA, I can only promise that, if elected, I will do my best to carry on the fine tradition of the council and to try to fill the shoes of our present president.

I feel I can give a great deal of time and energy to promote the sports and recreational programme the women desire. I will support the Women's Union in all their activities and uphold the rights and interests of the women students in all phases of campus activity.

Dorothy M. Greetham

Pen Sketch

Dorothy Greetham is a resident of Montreal, where she attended West Hill High School. Since entering McGill she has participated in many students activities, and as well is a scholarship student in Science.

Dorothy has held the following executive positions:

1) Captain and Intramural representative of the Swimming team — 1953-54

2) Canvasser and Group captain for Combined Charities 1954-55

3) Manager of the Swimming Team 1954-55

4) MOC representative to the M.W.S.A.A. Council

5) Director of the Water Show for 1955.

As a result of this outstanding record, we nominate Dorothy Greetham for President of the M.W.S.A.A., believing that she is fully capable to do an excellent job.

Patty Mowat

The aim of the M.W.S.A.A. is to promote active participation by all women students in athletics. These must be well organized for the greatest success. To achieve this I would suggest:

1) Athletics

Preview earlier in Freshman Reception Activities.

2) File information from all women concerning interest in specific sport and contact them for these sports.

3) Column in every issue of The Daily for women's sports.

If elected, I will do my utmost to fulfill these proposals and to represent all women's interests.

Patty Mowat

Pen Sketch

Entering McGill with the Presidency of Westmount High School Athletic Association behind her, Patty has participated in Inter-collegiate tennis and badminton. As well as capturing the Intramural badminton championship, she has played squash and hockey. Patty had experience with M.W.S.A.A. through her management of the tennis and badminton teams, 1953-55.

Her executive ability has proved itself through her

1) Chairmanship, Freshette Reception

2) Secretaryship, Red Wing Society

3) Work on Athletics Night Committee, SEC Awards Committee and Combined Charities.

In spite of her activities, she has retained the scholarship with which she came to McGill. For her athletic abilities, enthusiasm, and executive faculties, we urge you to support Patty Mowat for President (of M.W.S.A.A.)

WOMEN'S UNION PRES.

Joan Caplan

A main function of the Women's Union is to bring about closer relationships between resident and non-resident women. To fulfill this objective a city-sister system could be inaugurated.

Each resident girl would have a city-sister in the same year with common interests, thus widening the scope of acquaintances and activities for both. Year luncheons would also help in this respect and would bridge the gap between faculties.

A Vocational Guidance week would feature aptitude tests helping to determine the choice of career luncheon speakers.

If elected, I would like to carry out these plans and maintain the present high standard of work being done in the interests of McGill women.

Joan Caplan

Pen Sketch

Joan's activities:

1) Secretary of the Women's Union '54-'55

2) Women's Union Fashion show '53; '54 Publicity Director; '55 Convenor

3) Open House — Chairman of Classics Department — Secretarial Work

4) McGill Prom Executive — tickets and reservations '53

5) Annual Sales

6) Combined Charities

7) India Sale

8) ASUS award — '53 Social Committee

9) Intramural basketball championship team '55.

Because of her outstanding executive abilities, her winning personality, her wide range of interests and activities, we are confident that Joan Caplan is the most qualified person for the position of president of the Women's Union.

Lyn Fowler

If elected I propose:

1) To establish a Women's Executive Committee of an elected representative from each faculty to collaborate with the Women's Union Executive.

2) To promote an exchange of ideas with women students of other universities.

3) To support the closest co-operation with Women's Union.

4) To provide a more extensive Freshette Reception Program.

4) To encourage social functions such as Bridge Tournaments, Career talks, and class luncheons.

If elected I propose to uphold the interests of McGill women students to the best of my ability.

Lyn Fowler

Pen Sketch

We endorse Lyn Fowler for President of the Women's Union because:

1) She has become aware of the many problems and functions of the Women's Union while serving as Member-at-Large.

2) Her Executive talent has shown itself in various phases of campus life. She was in charge of ticket sales and reservations for the Plumbers Ball and organized stage properties for the Fashion Shows. For the past two years she has worked both as a

STUDENTS' SOCIETY PRESIDENT

Roy Amaron

I do not propose in this platform to make any radical election promises, since these are usually made only to be broken, and are a rehashing of some current student leader's opinion. However, there appear to be a few issues which next year's President will have to handle.

Fraternities. As an active brother for five years, I shall attempt to protect the fraternities' position.

Women's Union. Closely acquainted with our mutual problems, I shall work for a happy and just solution to them. (e.g. Campus-wide election of McGill Union President).

New Union. As one of the framers of the latest New Union Brief, I shall strive for an early and successful conclusion of this project.

I propose to do my utmost to promote the interests and activities of all McGill students regardless of faculty, race, religion, gender, or class and to break down the barriers which tend to frustrate unity among us.

Roy Amaron

Pen Sketch

We the undersigned take great pleasure in sponsoring Roy Amaron for the Presidency of the Students' Society. We feel that he was the ability, integrity and personality required by the holder of this position. We also feel that his wealth of experience in student affairs at McGill makes him the ideal person for the job.

Roy entered McGill in 1949, received his B.A. and continued in Law. He has been associated with many clubs and societies including the Winter Carnival, Red and White Revue, C.O.T.C. (where he is now a contingent officer), Choral Society, and Old McGill. He was appointed to the Scarlet Key in 1954.

He has held the following executive positions with distinction: President Choral Society, Managing Editor Old McGill '54, President McGill Union, and Member of the S.E.C. Chairman Dates Committee. A recipient of an A.S.U.S. Gold award, Roy has also received an S.E.C. Silver award and an Honourable Mention.

In all these activities Roy has, in our opinion, shown the qualities of decisiveness, tact, efficiency, and above all a fairness of approach and a broadness of outlook toward the many and varied groups and individuals which make up the student body.

1. New Union: This is foremost. University authorities give it "top priority" in their building program. Students must press for the realization of this overdue project.

Money is to come from the next McGill campaign for funds.

Failing this, or supplementary to it, government grants should be sought.

The Union must be for male and female students. The constitution for the present Union should be amended so that all students vote for President (open to both sexes), men vote for Men's Vice-President (under whose jurisdiction would come matters of interest to men only), women vote for Women's Vice-President (under whose jurisdiction would come matters of interest to women only). The Union would thus truly be a Students' Union.

2. Campus Co-ordination Program: One way to fight student apathy is to bring the Undergraduate Societies into the fight. These are closer to the students than SEC. They should promote activities sponsored by SEC. They could, for example, help sell tickets to student productions. Increased co-ordination between these societies and SEC is important. It would be of particular value to students in professional faculties which are not located in "the heart" of the campus.

3. McGill Ticket Bureau: Through SCOPE we bring the artist to the student. Through a McGill ticket bureau we could bring the student to the artist and athlete. The sale, on campus, of tickets to cultural and athletic events in the city at REDUCED RATES is entirely feasible and worthwhile.

GRIFFITHS ATHLETICS DIRECTOR ?

By STU SMITH

Exclusive Daily Scoop

At long last it looks as if the Mystery Man, the new Athletics Director of McGill University has finally been uncovered. It is approximately 99% certain that the gentlemen in question is Mr. Harry Griffiths, who is at present employed as a Business Manager at the University of Toronto.

Mr. Griffiths, who boasts a long record of good standing at the Queen City Institute, having served there for a period of six years, recently visited Montreal to be interviewed by McGill authorities. Apparently, he has succeeded in deeply impressing his inquisitors, for he seems a sure bet for the job.

It should, of course, be kept in mind that Mr. Griffiths is only one of four applicants for this important position and until the actual signing of a contract, there is the possibility that he will be turned down. This quartet definitely does NOT include the much discussed Johnny Metras, head football coach at Western University. Metras has not applied, nor is he being considered. It is also fairly certain that no Montrealer is being contemplated very seriously.

The post of Director of Athletics was left open upon the resignation, effective this June, of Vic Obeck. Obeck has taken on the vice-presidency of the Montreal Allouettes Football Club of the Big Four. Vic came to McGill in 1946 as Football coach and in 1949, he assumed the job which he is now leaving.

There are no substantial theories on the effect the expected arrival of Griffiths will have on the present athletic setup with regard to coaching positions. Mr. Griffiths could not comment on this, not having been signed officially. The general opinion is that the acceptance of Mr. Griffiths, who is not a football coach, would be an indication of confidence in Larry Sullivan. This, however, is strictly speculation.

The final choice of Director of Athletics is up to the Athletics Board and to the hierarchy of the University. The Athletics Board will make this decision sometime in April at a special meeting. It could happen that Harry Griffiths will be turned down at the last moment, but don't bet on it.

MAT FINALS SATURDAY

Others entered in these championships are: Toronto, Queens, OAC, the hosts, and Western. The defending co-champions are Toronto and Western and both are still powerful this year. The Redmen are a fair team and they might take it all, depending on their opponents, whom they have no knowledge about. Queens has not entered a full team and AOC has split two matches with Toronto.

Enroute to Guelph for the Intercollegiate Wrestling Championships this week-end is a team from McGill.

The Redmen will send a full team and here are the nine who will attempt to bring home the championship, last here in 1950-51.

Harry Baikowitz — The lightest man on the squad, Harry will fight in the 123 lb. class. He is a freshman and did not wrestle prior to entering McGill. His record this year includes 5 wins and two losses, both at the beginning of the campaign when he was inexperienced. He improved so much that he was able to become the champion in his weight class. He lives in Montreal and was born here.

Pete Clark — A third year geology student, Pete, a Montrealer, will tangle in the 130 lb. class. A veteran of two years, Pete was the 125 lb. provincial novice champ in 1954. At last year's Intercollegiate, Pete didn't do too well, finishing 4th in his weight. This year, however, he has been beaten only once and that time in a close bout. He has a shoulder which pops out of place at times but all that is done at such a time is to pop it back in and he is as good as new.

Bob Rogers — Bob, a Montrealer, is in his second year in Physical Education. He will be competing in the 137 lb. bracket. For Bob, this will be his second Intercollegiate, not having fared too well last year.

This year Rogers has been an improved grappler, finishing as a runnerup in the provincial novices after losing a highly disputed decision.

John Lillie — John is the only member of the team who has ever won an Intercollegiate championship, winning the 123 lb. championship in 1953. In his championship year he was the runnerup in the provincial novices. He is a little heavier now and is going to Guelph as the McGill man in the 147 lb. class. John lives in Montreal and is a second year science student.

Hugh Stephens — The real veteran of the team, Hugh was the victim of an injury jinx which kept him out of two Intercollegiate, and last year he was defeated in his first crack at the championships. This year he is fighting in the 157 lb. class and has been unbeaten. He is a Montrealer now, although he was born in Ontario, and he is a second year med. student. He has been hampered by lack of time to train, but he is in pretty good shape and should do all-right.

Bill Goldstone — Bill is a second year commerce man from St. Johns, Nfld., and is in his first year as a wrestler. He was the runnerup in the novices this year and weight-lifting is his hobby. Bill won the right to represent the Redmen in the 167 lb. class by besting his good friend Harry Bard. Bill likes wrestling and should be in the thick of the championship quest at Guelph.

Joe Hanaway — From Short Hill, N. J., Joe came to McGill after a year at Washington and Lee and is now in his second year at this institution. Joe has been a guard on the football team for two years. Joe has been wrestling 4 years but has won no championships in Canada. Last year he

B.E.G. Wrestling Coach Leads Matmen Again

The man who will lead the Red matmen to Guelph is one of Canada's leading authorities on amateur wrestling, Allan Turnbull.

Al, a Montrealer, has been in the coaching end of the sport for 22 years, including 6 at McGill. He coached wrestling at the north branch of the Montreal YMCA for many years and eight years ago, he first came to McGill as wrestling mentor.

His stay lasted five years, when finished third in the 191 lb. class Intercollegiate championships.

Paul Hughes — The captain of the team, Paul has been with it 4 years, including one as manager. A Montrealer, and a fifth year architecture student, he will tangle in the 191 lb. bracket. Paul is a former 191 lb. novice champ and 2 years' ago he was entered in the Intercollegiate as a 184 lb. heavy-weight. He didn't do too well against the heavier competition. Paul also was a tackle with the Redmen in 1953. Paul is confident of doing well in Guelph.

J. T. B. Gib-Carsley — In his second year of commerce, John is in his first year as a wrestler. He comes to McGill from the nearby town of Como, Quebec. He has fought only one losing fight this year, in a thrilling, if not too close fight. His hobby is weight-lifting and he was a tackle on the intermediate football team this year.

INTRAMURAL AWARDS PRESENTATION

The Intramural Awards Presentation will be held on Monday, Feb. 28th at 5:30 pm in the Redman Cafeteria. Refreshments will be served to all award winners.

This event is held to honor the Intramural team and individual champions for 1954-55. All individual champions are asked to attend in order that they may personally be presented with their award.

The following team champions are also asked to attend: — Vikings (Volleyball); Med 2'A (Basketball); Apes (Eng.) and Med 2 (Co-Champions — Touch Football); Med 4 (Floor Hockey).

EXTRAMURAL FESTIVAL

Intramural Champions from Macdonald College, Sir George Williams College, College Militaire Royal and McGill will compete for the Extramural Championship shield on Wednesday, March 2nd at the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium commencing at 7:15 pm.

Competitions will include Basketball, Volleyball, Badminton, Swimming and Riffery.

The four colleges involved this year have been very enthusiastic about the venture and it will certainly continue to be a permanent factor in the Intramural programs carried on in the various colleges.

If you want to enjoy some really good, keen competition, be at the gym on March 2nd and see for yourself.

Presentation of the Extramural shield will be held in the Redman Room immediately following the competitions.

INTERCOLLEGIATE MANAGERS

Doug Wilson, chairman of the Intercollegiate Athletic Council, wishes to announce that all male students at McGill University interested in managing intercollegiate teams, whether senior or intermediate, must leave their names with one of the secretaries at the Athletic Office in the Arthur Currie Gymnasium. This should be done as soon as possible since the Council wishes to have managerial duties organized at the earliest possible date.
